THE BEST OF TIMES...

Homecoming included a week full of exciting contests and entertaining events. Each day of Homecoming week was designated as a period of history. Organizations competed in daily activities for the coveted Homecoming title. "Cave Day" kicked off the week followed by the "Miss Rowdy" competition which required the students to recite a love poem in hopes of capturing Rowdy's attention. The lucky "lady" turned out to be Stephen Mitchell, the representative from Alphi Chi Omega. The shoot out designated "Western Day"; with laser guns in hand, the students representing each organization attempted to shoot their competitors. SAE placed first thanks to the sharp shooting skills of Kitty Collier. Faculty members competed in "Fifties Day" by doing what they do best...strutting their stuff. The popular lip sync was held Thursday night with organizations imitating different bands. AOPi won with their rendition of "The Devil Went Down to Georgia". Friday night was the bonfire with the cheerleaders hosting the final cheer-off between the organizations. The day of the game, floats were displayed up and down Bruno Drive. ZTA's creative interpretation of the homecoming theme won first place. At the game, the Panthers captured an easy victory over Faulkner State. Homecoming 1990 was a successful and memorable event.

Representing SAA, Carlton Chamblin portrays a pregnant Miss Rowdy as "she" and their first born cub tease Rowdy.

With a rose in his mouth, Stephen Mitchell, AXO's representative, captures first place in the Miss Rowdy competition.

Showing a look of confidence, Frank Dominick, representing AOPi, displays what he considers to be the perfect Miss Rowdy costume.

Bonnie Hairrell, an accounting professor, models her original attire in the fifties day competition.

Chaplain Stewart Jackson feels that it is his duty to give the crowd a slick appearance which he does as Dr. Moxley observes, with the famed tool of the "cool"...the comb.

Helen Carter and Ashley Wynne certainly have every reason to smile since Homecoming 1990 has arrived.

Singing and dancing to a song by the B-52's was the only thing on these Conservancy members minds during Lip Sync.

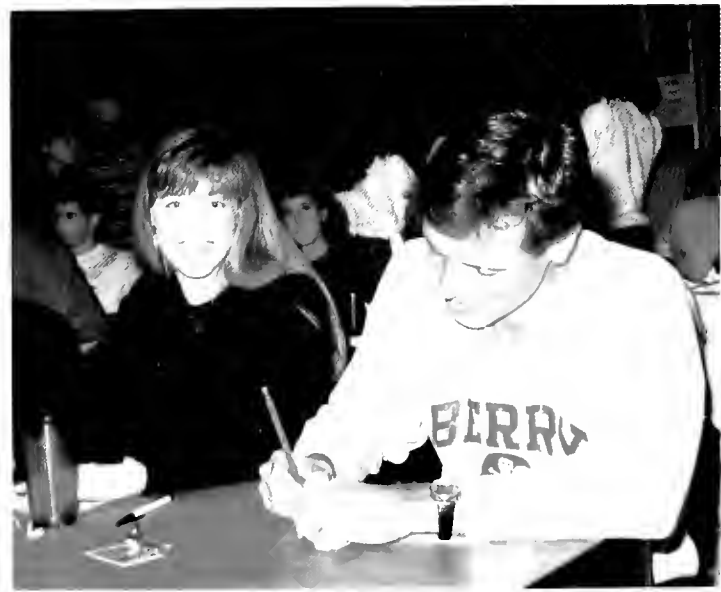

SAE pledges Spence Taylor, Lee Vaughn, Perry White, and Stephen Nickson, seem quite comfortable with their roles as "The New Kids on the Block" during Lip Sync.

The Kappa Deltas offer a different perspective of "The New Kids on the Block".

Taking counterstage Marilyn Monroe who keeps "Henry B. and The Boys" in stride during Lip Sync.

Ralph Watson contemplates his decision in selecting a winner in the Miss Rowdy competition while Jeannette Andrews shows her excitement.

'SVS presents OUTREACH DAY

Students, faculty and staff members at Birmingham-Southern combined efforts in over 38 project sites around the city.

Coordinated by the 'Southern Volunteer Services, volunteers were placed in projects that included taking children to the zoo and the Red Mountain Museum fair, painting apartments and houses for low-income or disabled families, picking up trash on the roadways, taking animals from the Humane Society to nursing homes, and providing a basketball clinic at the city's family court.

Birmingham-Southern is proud of the success of Outreach Day 1989 and the motivation of the volunteers to get involved in community life to serve toward a common good. Through the efforts of Outreach Day, the most important accomplishment was to expose people to a small part of what they can continue to experience for a lifetime.

Alpha Chi Omega was founded at DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana, on October 15, 1885. The Alpha Omega Chapter at Birmingham-Southern was founded in 1926. There are now over one-hundred thirty-five Alpha Chi Omega Collegiate chapters in the U.S. with a total membership of over 100,000.

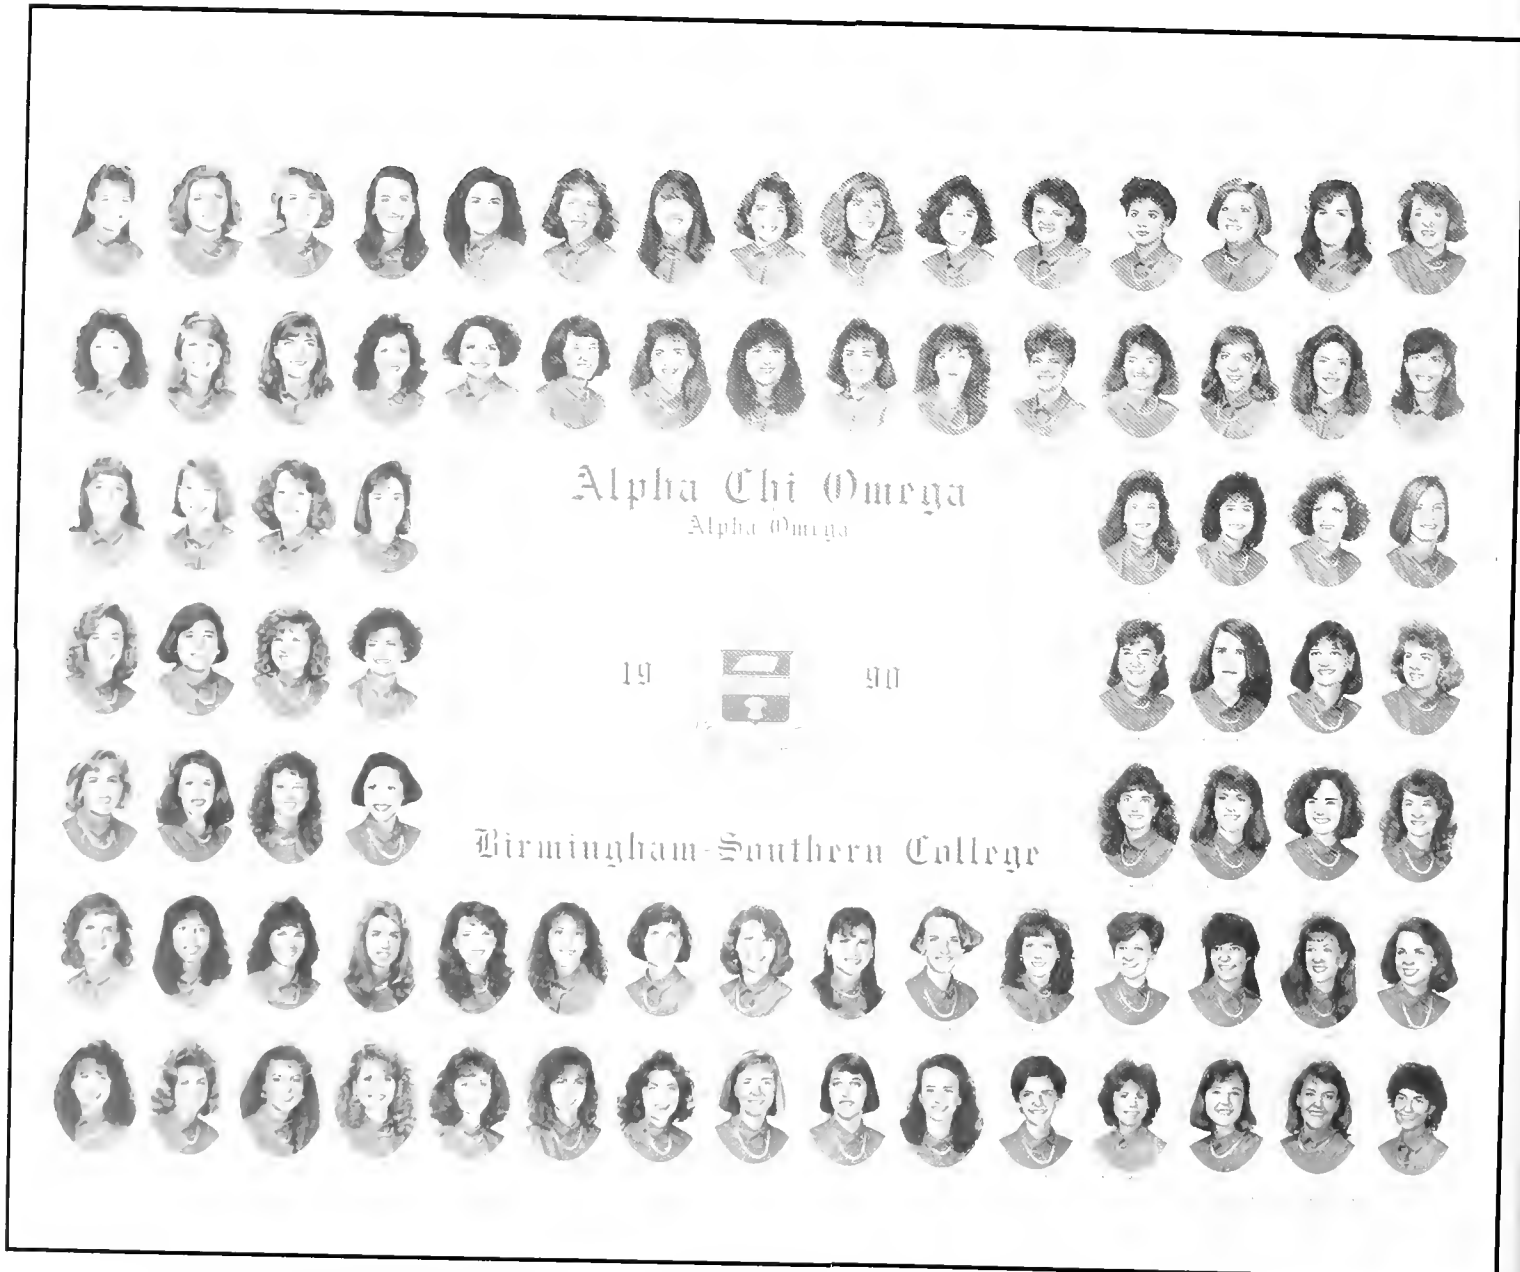

The colors of Alpha Chi Omega are scarlet red and olive green. The flower is the red carnation. A golden lyre set with twenty one pearls is the symbol and official badge.

Each year, the Alpha Chi's at 'Southern host the largest campus wide party, CASINO, to benefit several philanthropies including Cystic Fibrosis and Easter Seals. They also host an Alumni Appreciation Tea and a parent-daughter Tea annually. Alpha Chi's are involved in all areas of campus activities including scholastic honoraries, service organizations, student government groups, fine arts, housing staff, athletics, and many others.

Alpha Chi Omega offers lifetime membership to her initiates, experience in self-government, encouragement of members to develop to their greatest potential in all aspects of life, acquaintance with many avenues of service to others, and commitment to high moral and mental standards.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was founded on January 15, 1908 at Howard University by a group of young black women. This event initiated the movement of Greek letter sororities among black women in America. On that date there were only nine members of the sorority. Since then Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. has grown to include not only black women in the United States, but women of all races from all over the world. Our ever-expanding membership includes women from Germany, Africa, the Bahamas, the Virgin Islands, Korea, Central America, and just recently, Jamaica. Throughout the years Alpha Kappa Alpha's chief aim has been "Service to all Mankind". Nu Delta will certainly keep this point at the focus of our program as we enter this new decade with fervent enthusiasm and sisterhood.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Alpha Omicron Pi
Tau Delta Chapter

1989      1990

Birmingham-Southern College

Alpha Omicron Pi, a national women's fraternity, was founded on January 2, 1896 at Barnard College in New York. Tau Delta Chapter was established at Birmingham-Southern College in 1925. Alpha Omicron Pi's colors are red and white, and the flower is the Jacqueminot rose. The panda is our national mascot and Raggedy Ann is Tau Delta's mascot.

AOPi stresses individuality and strives for excellence. Tau Delta encourages its members to participate in a wide realm of activities. Philanthropy is a critical part of our chapter, too. Tau Delta's members are involved in many service programs organized by the college, and as an Alpha Omicron Pi chapter, we support our national philanthropy, Arthritis Research. Our commitment allows us to excel on the college campus and in the Birmingham community. Nationally, Tau Delta has been recognized for its accomplishments in Rush and scholarship. Alpha Omicron Pi encourages the pursuit of excellence and friendship in the lives of its members.

Chi Omega was founded at the University of Arkansas on April 5, 1859. Chi Omega has the largest number of active collegiate chapters with 175 chapters throughout the nation as well as having the largest number of active members with a total membership well over 180,000. Upon receiving its charter on February 18, 1989, the Omicron Lambda Chapter proudly became the ninth chapter of Chi Omega in the State of Alabama. The Chi Omega colors are cardinal and straw, and the flower is the white carnation.

Each chapter of Chi Omega chooses its own philanthropy. Omicron Lambda has adopted Hannah Home, a local center for abused women, as its philanthropy. The chapter is also involved in one community service project per month. At the other end of the spectrum, Chi Omega participates in social events throughout the school year. In the fall there are mixers with all fraternities as well as winter and spring formals. For the pledges we have a pledge retreat and secret Owl Pals promoting sisterhood. Chi Omega is a lifelong experience that inspires friendship and personal growth.

CHI OMEGA

Kappa Delta was founded in Farmville, Virginia, in 1887 at State Female Normal School, now Longwood College. National membership now exceeds 110,000 women across the country. The Alpha Upsilon chapter at Birmingham-Southern was founded in 1930. The symbol of Kappa Delta is the white rose and the colors are olive green and pearl white. Kappa Delta's national philanthropies are the national committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse and the Crippled Children's Hospital located in Richmond, Virginia. KD's at 'Southern support these philanthropies every year by participating in a Saint Patrick's Day fundraiser and by sponsoring a Swing-A-Thon. The Alpha Upsilon Chapter also participates in local philanthropic activities. Members volunteer weekly at the Ronald McDonald House where parents stay when their children are in the Children's Hospital.

The Kappa Deltas also have three exciting parties each year. Steakfry is in the fall, Winter Formal is at Christmas-time and a riverboat cruise is in the spring. We encourage our members to be involved in all aspects of campus life as well as in community service activities.

KAPPA DELTA

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded in Farmville, Virginia in 1898. Our Alpha Nu chapter was established in 1922 and was the first sorority on the BSC campus. There are eight Zeta chapters in Alabama with 156 active chapters nationally.

Our colors are turquoise blue and steele grey, and our jewel is the pearl. Our symbol is the crown and our mascot is the rabbit. Our national philanthropy is the Association of Retarded Citizens, which we support by sponsoring the Battle of the Bands, an annual contest for campus rock music groups.

The flower, the white violet, is celebrated each year in the spring with the White Violet Formal. We have many other social activities, including a semi-formal, a theme party, and fraternity mixers. Zetas are a diverse group and are involved in many campus organizations and honoraries. The chapter has received national recognition for its academic achievements and campus recognition for its philanthropic and athletic efforts. The success of the chapter is due to the love and support which the Zeta sisters feel as they live by the founding precept of "love, the greatest of all things."

SORORITY TOWNHOUSE CAMPAIGN

The 1989-1990 academic year has been an exciting one for the members of Birmingham-Southern's sororities. In the fall a campaign was begun to build townhouses for each sorority on campus. Each sorority's campaign has been led by alumnae from their chapters to give them information about the campaign and to ask them for their help in making this project possible. Although the individual campaigns have looked to their alumnae for the main support, the actives and their parents have also played an important role in the campaign. The sororities have had fundraising projects which ranged from carwashes to chili suppers. Birmingham-Southern's Panhellenic sponsored a Christmas Bazaar in early December which sold handmade Christmas items and gifts raising $2,500 dollars in only two days. Actives have put in countless hours of service in the campaign office typing donor cards, stuffing pockets for mailings, pricing bazaar items, filing, addressing coffee invitations, writing thank-you notes, etc. There has been a great deal of Panhellenic spirit and friendly competition shown throughout the entire campaign.

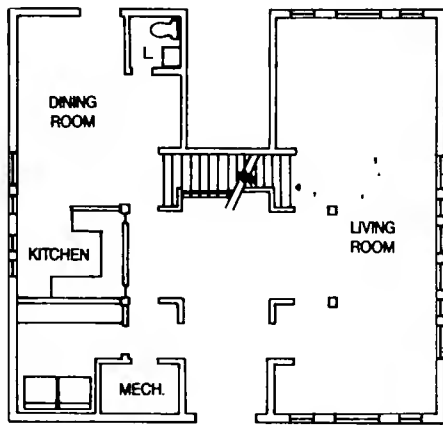

Each townhouse will have three floors. The top floor will be residential and will house eight officers in four rooms with connecting baths. There is also a laundry room on the third floor complete with laundry tub and a drip dry area. The second floor and front entrance includes the formal living room, dining room, kitchen, and powder room. The first floor and rear entrance is made up of the chapter room, study room, bathroom facilities and storage. Chapter rooms will be large enough to seat 85 women comfortably with room for a stage or podium. Each townhouse will have a total of 4,950 square feet. The complex will be built in a cluster which begins at the Planetarium and runs behind the new Bruno Residence Hall.

Our sororities are certainly looking forward to their new homes!

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity was founded in 1865 by Otis Allen Glazebrook, Erskine Mayo Ross, and Alfred Marshall at Virginia Military Institute. Today ATO ranks as one of the largest fraternities in the U.S. and certainly in the Southeast, where ATO chapters exist on almost every major campus. The ATO national fraternity provides a unique opportunity for undergraduates to grow in a brotherhood founded upon Christian principles. The Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity also offers special programs for leadership, scholarship, and fellowships through the Leadershape

Program and the Alpha Tau Omega Foundation.

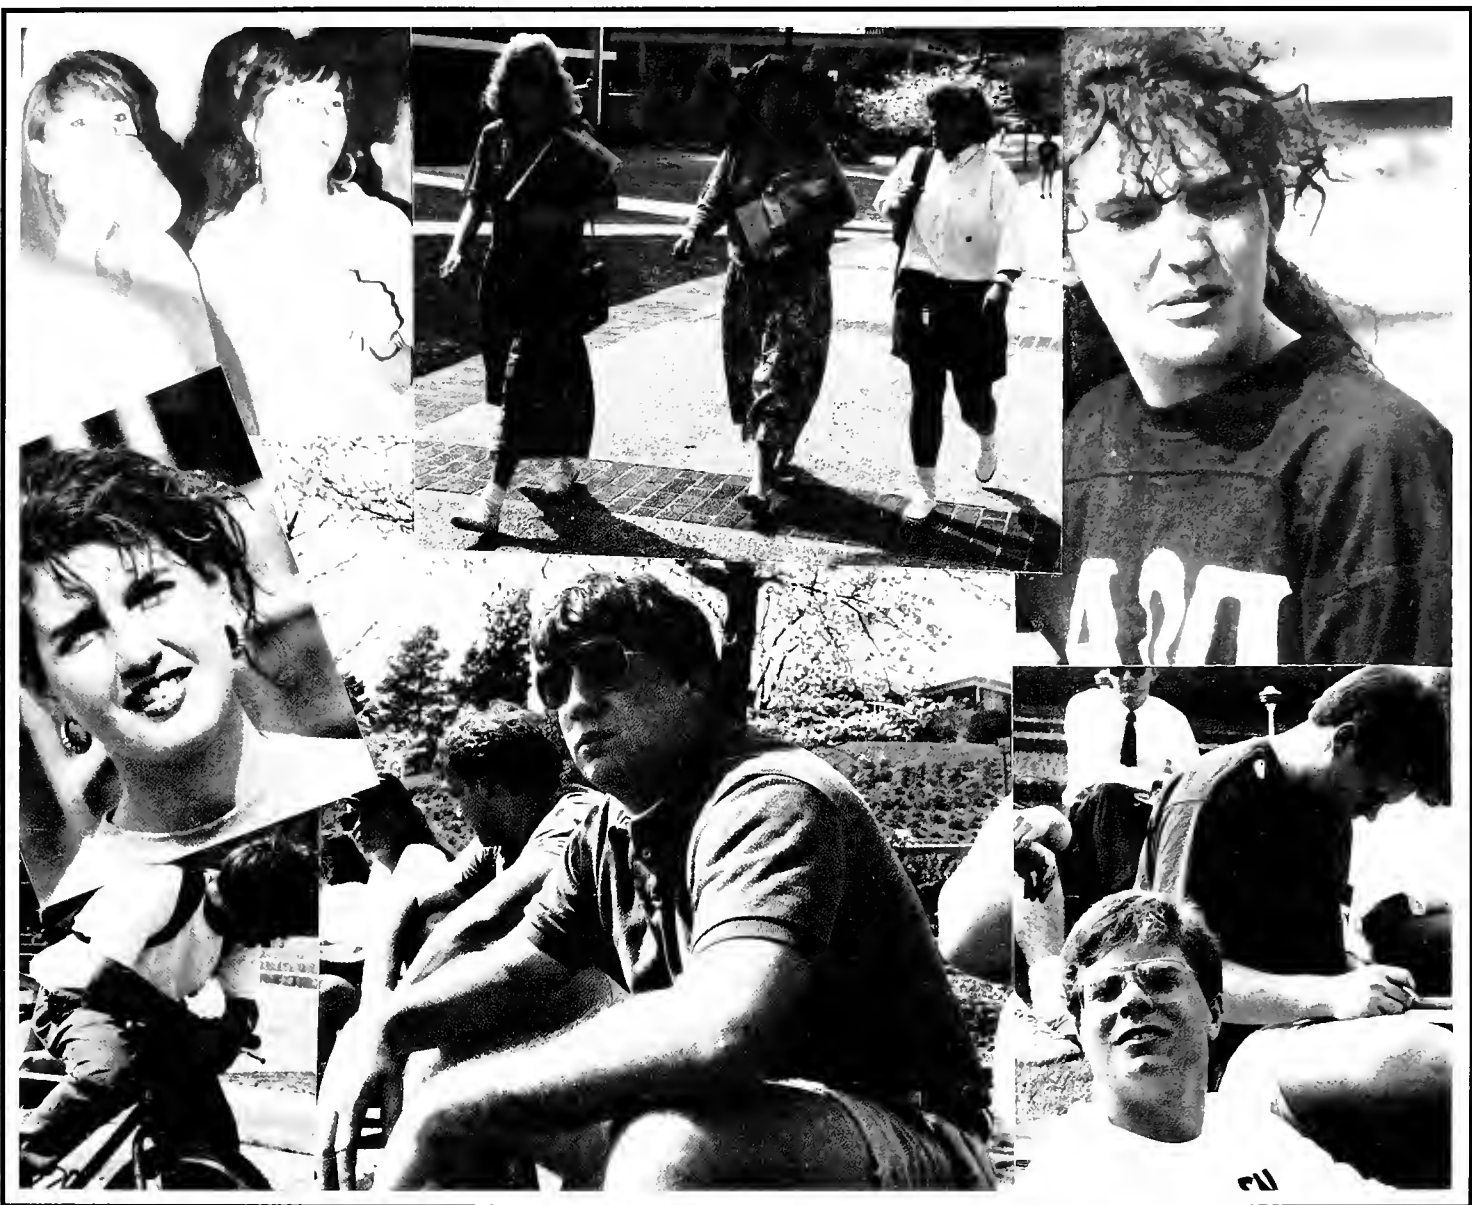

The Beta Beta chapter was founded here at BSC in 1885. The chapter has experienced many ups and downs in its history. Most recently the chapter has experienced a tremendous turn around and has become the one to watch on campus. We are proud of our diversity as a fraternity, and we are equally proud of the strong bond of brotherhood that we maintain among each of our members. The most outrageous parties on campus are the Alpha Tau Omega's, from Luau when our house is transformed into a tropical paradise, to Viking Party, ATO's throw-down in the Nordic tradition that was founded at our chapter over twenty years ago.

Assistance and loyalty, though, is really the core of being an Alpha Tau Omega man. Based upon ideals that are honorable and timeless, our fraternity is dedicated to instilling in each brother, the pride and the desire for excellence that is worthy of the Alpha Tau Omega badge. So if you want to join a fraternity where every member makes a positive difference, it's ATOnly!

GREEK LIFE

We regret that, due to a last minute problem with their composite, the Chi Sigma Chi Fraternity was not able to be justly represented. Their first year on campus was extremely successful and we wish them luck in the future.

In 1865, in the middle of a war-torn community which had been victimized by enemy raids during the war between the states, four students at Washington College (now Washington and Lee) in Lexington, Virginia founded Kappa Alpha Order. The founders of KA sought to preserve the ideals of the country gentlemen of their time. They perpetuated this goal in establishing an order of Christian Knights. Stress is laid upon the fact that Kappa Alpha is an Order, religious in feeling and rooted in tradition of high personal achievement. There is no

Kappa Alpha fraternity. An order is a society of persons united by possession of a mutual distinction; the recognition of something previously acquired. It is a group of men aspiring to the qualities of the true gentleman. Only those who possess those qualities and those who care to develop them, can fully enjoy Kappa Alpha and grow in character in its membership. The traits of the modern KA gentlemen are reflective of knights who derived the chivalric code of the Middle Ages. The chivalric code compelled a knight to be brave, honorable, and true to his promised work; to be loyal to his feudal lord, to defend his church; to protect the weak, aid the poor and seek justice, and to revere womanhood. The spirit of chivalry continues to exist in the concept of the gentleman with his attributes of honor, faith, justice, regard for truth, consideration of others, reverence for womanhood, and courtesy and good judgment in everyday activities. As it is often said, chivalry is alive today; and it can easily be traced to the gentlemen of Kappa Alpha Order.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Alabama Iota

1989

1990

Birmingham Southern College

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded on March 9, 1856 at the University of Alabama and has remained one of the nation's respected fraternities. The Alabama Iota Chapter was established at Birmingham-Southern on November 23, 1878. Founded on the basis of intellectual and Christian ideals, the fraternity has always inspired its members to strive for wisdom, growth, and maturity. Through its motto, The True Gentleman, the fraternity enlarges the virtues of goodwill, justice, and honor. In its scholastic endeavors and athletic achievements, SAE has maintained the level of excellence which has gained it many high honors and awards. The chapter's high level of commitment to community service has greatly benefited such organizations as Muscular Dystrophy, Multiple Sclerosis, and Cystic Fibrosis. SAE's campus involvement is consistently seen in honoraries such as Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, and ODK; and, also in organizations such as the SGA, PSSO, Student Judiciary, and the Triangle Club. Although the chapter has been named one of the top six in the nation for the past six years, all of these achievements pale in comparison to the brotherhood felt among members of the chapter. Through their friendships and dedication to the chapter, the brothers of Alabama Iota continue to maintain and improve the high standards synonymous with SAE and to contribute fine, young leaders to society.

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu
 Lambda Theta Chapter

1989            1990

Birmingham-Southern College

On January 1, 1869, following Civil strife that racked the land, three cadets at Virginia Military Institute sought to lay the groundwork for an ideal society of men bound together by bonds of friendship and dedicated to governing all acts by honor. They founded The Legion of Honor, commonly known as Sigma Nu Fraternity. They based their new union on three cardinal principles — Love, Truth, and Honor. By studying, understanding, and applying these principles, better men would be produced. Many years later, the fraternity has become a national leader among Greek Organizations. The men of the Lambda Theta chapter, chartered on May 2, 1987, seek to apply the same fundamental principles to our lives that our founders set forth. Central to our success is a desire to balance scholarship with an active social life. In each of our four years on campus, the chapter has won the Phi Eta Sigma award for pledge class scholarship, and the last two years we have earned the Stephen Noser award for academic excellence in addition to achieving the third highest GPA of all Sigma Nu chapters in the nation. Yet our social calendar remains strong with Pledge Dance, Ski Lodge, Chuck's Place parties, the traditional White Rose Formal, Shipwreck, and other occasions providing a distinctive fraternity experience.

Philanthropic activities include the annual "Tunes for Tots," work in Birmingham's City Stages festival, and fundraisers for the American Cancer Society. We insist on visibility, evidenced by the fact that Sigma Nu brothers are the most involved group in campus activities, honoraries, and leadership positions. Perhaps most importantly, however, is the strong brotherhood we enjoy, unique to a group of our moderate size. In all, the Lambda Theta chapter looks back upon our success with pride and steps forward to a future no less impressive.

Theta Chi Fraternity was founded at Norwich University in Vermont on April 10, 1856. Beta Xi Chapter was installed here at Southern on May 23, 1942. Theta Chi encourages members to extend a helping hand to those who need it. They are involved in school service with members on Student Judiciary, P.S.S.O., Triangle Club, S.G.A., and other service organizations. The brothers of Theta Chi support the Sheriff's Boys Ranch with an annual fundraiser and, more importantly, with time spent with the kids on Saturday afternoons. They also work for Special Olympics. The brothers of Theta Chi also strive to gain academic excellence, consistently maintaining a high average and placing members in distinguished honoraries, including Phi Beta Kappa. Excellence on the field as well as in the classroom is a high priority with Theta Chi. They won the All-Sports Trophy last year and have won Greek Week for the past several years. All these achievements pale in comparison to the most important factor: Brotherhood. Theta Chi's live, play and work together in an atmosphere of great friendship.

They teach their members truth, temperance, and tolerance, while inspiring friendships that will last a lifetime. Theta Chi will continue its rich tradition in the future never ceasing in its efforts to grow and improve. Every man who has worn the military red and white of Theta Chi became a better man because of it, and Theta Chi will continue to nurture excellence in its members because Theta Chi is for life.

President Bush comes to BSC to honor Conservancy.

"A city set on a hill cannot be hid."

"It was more below a hill — tucked away in a long forgotten corner of Birmingham-Southern College in Birmingham. The old steam plant building that once heated the Hilltop and known more for Rat Laboratory experiments in past years, breathed life once again Friday, two days before Earth Day 1990. It didn't cough and wheeze with a wasteful energy source, but with a clean bit of fresh air and national media exposure."

"Now used as a recycling center by the Birmingham-Southern Conservancy, the building was the setting as President of the United States George Bush presented the Conservancy with the 121st "Point of Light" award of the "1000 Points of Light Initiative." The Conservancy, a student-faculty group promoting environmental preservation, was recognized by President Bush for its recycling and environmental education efforts. The organization was also featured by Resource Recycling, a magazine from Portland, Oregon, in its April edition, as one of seven colleges making outstanding strides in environmental preservation and recycling."

"The Point of Light award is given six days a week to individuals or groups who take steps to curb drug abuse, illiteracy, inadequate education, environmental decay, homelessness, hunger, AIDS, and other social concerns. The awards purpose is to show, through recognition, that steps can be taken to successfully combat social problems facing the world today. According to a White House spokesperson, Birmingham-Southern's award was only the third Point of Light the President has presented in person."

SPECIAL GUESTS . . .

Famous Soviet Dissident Natan Sharansky

Natan Sharansky, the famous Soviet dissident, presented a public lecture on "The Continuous Struggle for Human Rights," at Birmingham-Southern College's Bill Battle Coliseum this past year. His lecture was a presentation of The Program in Judaic Studies and Middle Eastern Culture.

Sharansky is probably the most famous of "refuseniks" of the Soviet Union, standing up and speaking out against the injustices towards Jews in Russia. After applying for an exit visa in 1973, Sharansky was the subject of constant harassment by the KGB. "In light of recent political developments in Russia, Sharansky's role in changing that country's national thinking over the past 17 years is of particular significance," said BSC President Neal Berte.

"We are indeed pleased to have the man who became a leader, a symbol, and a source of inspiration to others in their quest for freedom, as the Judaic Studies and Middle Eastern Culture lecturer. Sharansky's message should have universal appeal," Berte said.

In March, 1977, Sharansky became the focus of international attention when he was abducted by the KGB and arrested on espionage and treason charges. After his arrest, he spent nine years in various prisons and labor camps. During these nine years, his wife, Avital, who had been able to leave for Jerusalem in 1974, worked worldwide for his freedom.

Thousands of people wrote to Sharansky during his imprisonment, and even though these letters were never received by him, they were still seen by the government, and served as a reminder that Sharansky's situation was worldwide.

Sharansky joined his wife in Jerusalem following his February 1986 release by the Soviets. He is the leader of the Soviet Jews presently living in Israel.

This is the third year for the Program in Judaic Studies and Middle Eastern Culture at Birmingham-Southern.

BRITISH EDITOR MICHAEL WHITE

Michael White, Editor-in-Chief of The Guardian, came to campus to compare the British press and media with the American press and media.

Paul A. Volcker, Former Federal Reserve Chairman

Paul A. Volcker, the former Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, told a packed Munger Auditorium audience that steps must be taken to reduce the so-called twin deficits — the federal budget deficit and trade deficit. Not doing so could lead to a lower standard of living for the next generation, he said.

“Ten or 20 years from now, what are Americans going to say about how this generation has handled all this?” Volcker asked.

On the expanding economy, he said, “If we play our cards right, we may have an expansion for years to come.”

Volcker was at Birmingham-Southern as the B. A. Monaghan Lecturer in Economics, and his appearance was also under the sponsorship of the Edward Lee Norton Board of Advisors for Business Education at The College. His topic was “The Future of Economics in the United States.”

In addition to the formal address, Volcker attended a luncheon where he answered questions from community leaders and the media, and he later met with students in an informal setting to have dialogue on issues in economics. The Volcker visit received widespread press coverage.

The Monaghan lectureship has attracted outstanding economists and business leaders to address Birmingham-Southern students, faculty and the public. Previous lecturers have included economists: Wayne Angell, Juanita Kreps, Herbert Stein, Murray Weidenbaum, William Allen, and Director of the Securities and Exchange Commission, George Kundahl.

The lectureship is made possible through an endowment provided by Vulcan Materials in 1981 and given in the name of Mr. Monaghan in appreciation for his years of service to the company.

PANTHERS WIN NAIA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Birmingham-Southern Panthers won the National Association of Inter-collegiate Athletics NAIA national championship in an 88 to 80 victory over Wisconsin Eau Claire in title play at Kansas City. It was the first National Championship for the college and the first National Basketball Championship for any Birmingham area college or university. The team, picked number three in the conference pre-season ratings, went all the way to win the national championship coached by Head Coach Duane Reboul, in his first year at BSC. Key victories along the way were an early season at home victory over number one ranked David Lipscomb University, 117-110, followed by a semi-final victory over number one, national tournament seed David Lipscomb 98-86. Coach Reboul was named NAIA District 27 Coach of the year.

Stacy Butler finished his Basketball career as only the second two-year player in the history of the College to score over 1,000 points. He also earned first team All-American status, was national tournament MVP, and a member of the all tournament National Team. Butler was designated as the NAIA District 27 Male Athlete of the year and signed a professional contract with Canadian Basketball League with plans to play in the European Basketball League in the fall. Joining Butler on the All-Tournament Team was Fred Martinear. Brent Carter, a Senior co-captain of the team, was one of the best point guards in the teams history.

The Men's Basketball Team members were recognized by the Lakeshore Foundation as the Male Athletes of the year for the State of Alabama and received the Sington Trophy. The team was recognized in comments by President George Bush at a Birmingham luncheon he was attending, and the team received proclamations and a "victory celebration" parade from the City of Birmingham, and Mayor Richard Arrington and the Alabama Legislature.

Mr. Dale Brown, Head Basketball Coach at Louisiana State University, was the annual Black Tie Club speaker for the Basketball awards program, and as a result of his visit announced The Dale Brown Basketball Scholarship at Birmingham-Southern in recognition of the student-athlete emphasis at the college.

Birmingham-Southern's 1989 Soccer Team secured a 14-6 record on its way to a Southern States Conference Championship with a record of 6-0, and was the first team in district history to go undefeated in conference play. Among some of the top performers for the Panthers last season were Austin Boyd and Billy Hughes. Boyd, as a Junior, recorded a school record of 12 assists, and was named to the All-District 27 Team and was an honorable mention NSCAA All-South selection. Hughes was selected as a NAIA Academic All-American after maintaining a 3.67 GPA in math and pre-med.

NURSING DIVISION

Birmingham-Southern College

1989 1990

Nursing Division
School Colors: Black & Gold

NOT PHOTOGRAPHED

The School of Nursing here at Birmingham-Southern College was the only program of its kind in the country. Modeled after the teacher-practitioner program at Rush University, it combined liberal arts and sciences with nursing courses, granting four-year Bachelor of Science in Nursing degrees. In the Rush model, professors taught classes while continuing to work, thus allowing professors to remain up-to-date in their fields. The nursing instructors here at BSC were leaders in their respective fields, and the Rush model provided for their continued professional growth in their specialties, while giving students outstanding role models, of teachers, practitioners, and nurse leaders.

The Birmingham-Southern College School of Nursing was approved by the Alabama Board of Nursing in February 1981 and accepted its first students in September 1982. The first class to complete the program graduated in May 1985. The school was affiliated with AMI Brookwood Medical Center. Brookwood provided clinical experiences for students such as intensive care units, medical/surgical, mental health, operating room, and labor and delivery, as well as establishing scholarships ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 per year. In October 1985, the school received full accreditation from the National League of Nursing; this accreditation continued to the programs end, evidence of the program's excellence.

In the Spring of 1988, Birmingham-Southern announced that due to the low enrollment in the Nursing School, the School would be closed. This low enrollment was a reflection of a nation wide decrease in nursing school enrollments and the BSC School of Nursing became another casualty in the nationwide nursing shortage. The last students completed the program in January 1990 and graduated in May 1990, bringing the total number of RNs graduated from the program to one hundred and two.

The Nursing Class of 1990 wishes to express its deep appreciation and gratitude to AMI Brookwood Medical Center, Dr. Margaret Millsap, Nancy Magnuson, Patsy Schmith, Keeta Easterwood, Eleanor Battles, Pat Furner, Bobbi Dillard, and Gwen Holmes for their unending dedication to the students and to the uncompromised excellence of the program.

DR. NEAL R. BERTE

Dr. Neal Berte is one of the foremost educators in the nation and an exemplary member of the Birmingham community. The honors and awards bestowed upon Dr. Berte more than indicate his success as an educator and his service to the community. He earned three degrees from the University of Cincinnati including an education degree. In 1979, Dr. Berte was given an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from Birmingham-Southern College for his service to the school. Dr. Berte has been President of the College since 1976, and lives with his wife Anne, and their four children on the campus.

DEAN H. IRVIN PENFIELD

Dean H. Irvin Penfield has had an outstanding career at Birmingham-Southern College. His work here has spanned over two decades and shows no signs of ending soon. The Dean maintains himself as an educator even in the midst of his overwhelming responsibilities which could but do not keep him out of the classroom or from doing research work. Dean Penfield received three degrees in Political Science from the University of Alabama including his doctorate. Dean Penfield has been an educator at Birmingham-Southern since 1967 and has been Vice- President for Academic Affairs and Dean of the College since 1985.

We regret, that due to unforeseen circumstances, the 1989-1990 Southern Accent is both later in arriving and smaller in size than usual. Although resources were limited, we hope that we were able to compile a book which accurately recaps both the everyday and the exciting events of the past year on the Hilltop.
